HOW SHALL LIBERTY-ST. BE WIDENED? ARGUMENTS FOR AND AGAINST THE PLANS OF

THE BRIDGE EXPERTS. The Bridge Trustees' Terminal Committee gave hearing yesterday to property-owners in the matter of the widening of Liberty-st., from High-st. to Tillaryst., to make a new avenue of approach to the Eridge. The members of the committee present were James Howell, G. W. McNulty, A. S. Swan and S. L. Keeney. A considerable number of interested persons were Major G. W. McNulty, who presided, first called for Major G. W. McNulty, who presided, first called for objections to the plan for the widening of Liberty-st. on the west side. William G. Low appeared for the Brooklyn Savings Bank, whose property, at Concord and Fulton sts., is assessed at $100,000, and is valued at $200,000. The bill, he said, did not provide for the same plan as the report of the Board of Experts. The bill said an avenue of approach from Tillary-st. The bill said an avenue of approach from Tillary-st.

This meant that both sides of the new avenue should be in Tillary-st. The cost of the improvement was not limited by the bill, but it was the duty of the trustees to keep the expense as small as possible. The property on the west side of Liberty-st, was worth far more than on the east side.

Sidney V. Lowell, who appeared for the jewelcy first sidney V. Lowell, who appeared that the scheme was of William Wise & Son, argued that the scheme was one of doubtful utility to the city in proportion to the cost. All the circumstances favored the widening of Liberty-st. on the east side rather than the west. There was costly property on the latter and cheap property on the other side. A better plan would be to take the easterly side, and then there could be a fine facade along the Bridge property, instead of a medley of stables and tenement houses.

No one else appeared for the property-owners, and advocates for the improvement were then heard. Hugo advocates for the improvement were then heard. Hugo Hirsh spoke for the laundry interest of J. P. Taaffe, on the east side of Liberty-st., at Concord-st., and advo-cated the plan of the Board of Experts. George P. Sheldon appeared for the Brocklyn Bank, which will soon erect a new building at Clinton and Fulton sis. opposite the proposed new highway. He urged the plans of the Board of Experts as best for the city and the Bridge. The new avenue of approach would afford an adequate means of reaching the Eridge from the Heights and South Brooklyn for many years to come. Ex-Mayor John W. Hunter said that he wished there ould be better facilities for ingress and egress at the New-York terminus of the Bridge. Improvement was needed there than in Brooklyn. It was extrava gant for Brooklyn to spend so much money for new approaches when they were not absolutely needed. When people handed from the Bridge in New-York they emptied into a cesspool." General A. C. Barnes who is a Bridge Trustee and owner of the large bookbindery on the east side of Liberty-M., denied that h and any idea of what the experts would report in the matter, and used no influence to see that his property was left undisturbed by the proposed widening. Gen-was left undisturbed by the proposed widening. General Earnes supported the experts' plans.

Professor G. W. Plympton, the Brooklyn member of the Board of Experts, spoke of the principles that guided the action of the Board, which he said were public convenience and public weal. The line of the old street was adopted and the property taken to widen it was so taken as to leave property that would be valuable. The Terminal Committee will report to the trustees next Monday at the May meeting.

HEBREWS COMPLAIN OF PERSECUTION.

THEY SAY THEY ARE ASSAILED WITH STONES WHILE GOING TO THEIR SYNAGOGUES.

A delegation of Polish and Russian Hebrews pre sented to Mayor Chapin yesterday a petition signed by about fifty persons, including the officers of the con-gregations, Assifes Israel, at No. 25 Varet-st., Chebra-Kadlscha, and Bikur-Cholim, all of them in the easterly part of the city, asking that they be protected in their exercise of religious privileges. In it they

On our way to and from the synagogue we are constantly menaced and often beaten by merciless ruffians that dwell in or near the immediate neighborhood. We pay our taxes without a murmur and strive in every conceivable way to be good and loyal citizens, but we are singled out for the hitterest persecution, and we have full knowledge that it is merely, as in knasia, on account of our religion. To the shame of the neighboring public we must say that they never seek to prevent, but actually encourage, by levers each to prevent, but actually encourage, by levers and often exceptions, the heartless persecution of an inoficusive people. We have had recourse to the police court, but it being utterly impossible to ascertain the names of the aggressors, we are left without reciress. We are frequently assaulted and wounded by stones and other missies thrown at us. Old men are attacked by young miscreants and severely injured. Indeed, one of our co-religionists owning properly in the Fourteenth Ward had his windows smashed by the mob, and the claziers he had hired to repair them were set upon and almost murdered. It may well be asided: Can these things be in this land of liberty? may well be asked: Can these sames be in the following of liberty?

The Mayor promised to thoroughly investigate the evils.

AN OLD MAN SHOOTS HIMSELF DEAD.

Frederick J. Suter, aged sixty-six years, committed suicide yesterday morning by shooting himself through been a sufferer from asthma for thirteen years. Death was almost instantaneous. Sater at one time carried on a prosperous piano business, and was well known throughout the Eastern District of Brooklyn. At the time of the shooting he was dressing. Mrs. Suter, who was cooling the breakfast, heard the shot, and going to the room found her husband lylng unconscious on the floor in a pool of blood. He died before medical aid could be called. His act is believed to be due to RE-ARRESTED FOR KILLING AN OLD WOMAN. Thomas Smith, of No. 78 1.1 Middleton-st., and George Neal, of No. 52 Hope-st., Were arraigned before Justice Goetting yesterday, charged with assault in the second degree. The prisoners were arrested on April 8, charged with causing the death of Mrs. Antonio April 8, Charlest Romano, an aged Italian woman, by pushing her into an excavation at Roebling'st, and Broadway. The coroner's jury, however, relieved the two young men of all responsibility, and they were discharged. The matter was then brought to the notice of District-At-torney Ridgway, who ordered the rearrest of the men. They were taken into custody on Saturday night. The prisoners will have a hearing on Thurs-day.

SHE SAYS THE TRANSFERS WERE FORGED. Mrs. Elizabeth B. Raymond yesterday obtained an order from Justice Pratt, in the Supreme Court, to compel the Western Union Telegraph Company to allow her to inspect and photograph certain certificates and checks. She says that she is the owner of eighteen shares of the capital stock of the company, and that when she went to the office and asked for them, she was told that at various times, between July 20, 1887, and July 25, 1888, she had transferred the stock. The transfers and three checks bearing her signature were shown to her. She says that all the indorse ments on the transfers are forgeries, as are also at least two of the checks. She seeks to recover $2,500 from the company. The subscribing witness to the transfers is J. H. Woods. He formerly boarded with the plaintiff.

A travesty of "As You Like It" was presented at the Academy of Music last evening by Company I, 7th Regiment, N. G. S. N. Y., under the auspices of the Crescent Athletic Club. William F. Wall took the part of Rosalind, and William Duncan Preston, who wrote the travesty, took the part of Orlando. The proceeds of the entertainment will go toward completing the new club-house.

GATHERED ABOUT THE TOWN.

Frank Lauzer, a prominent Brooklyn Democrat, has been expelled from the Bushwick Democratic Club for alleged conduct unbecoming a citizen and with tending to bring reproach upon the clab. The charges were made by Alderman J. J. Black, a member of the club, who alleges that Lauzer charged him with failing to pay his dues and being a "scab" politician. The matter was brought before the members of the club and referred to the board of trustees, which listened to the testimony and recommended his expulsion. The matter has caused a sensation in Democratic circles.

United States Commissioner Renedict yesterday took testimony on the condemnation by the Government of fifty-nine acres of land in Dyker's Mendows, near Fort Hamilton, for a mortar battery. The town of New-Utrecht opposed the closing of highways in the tract. ie property belongs to the Dyker Beach Improvement Company. The hearing was adjourned.
